Turn your school or center into an interactive nature and theater arts forum for a day.

Start with a dynamic workshop in which 50 children/participants learn and practice basic drama skills.

Bring in an audience for a 1-hour audience participation show to celebrate Rachel Carson's vital legacy.

Reflect, communicate, and activate your own sense of wonder with this engaging family program.

Deepen engagement with the natural world by providing creative encounters through stories, songs, field study and drama. Provide children and their families with a positive, thoughtful and joyful performance experience, one that both sparks their curiosity and encourages reflection. Accompany children in exploring the outdoor world and bring science, poetry, and nature alive through the actual practice of it. As Carson said: "If a child is to keep alive his inborn sense of wonder, he needs the companionship of at least one adult who can share it, rediscovering with him the joy, excitement and mystery of the world we live in."
