NATURESTAGES' SUMMER HIGHLIGHTS

ACADIA, ALLEY POND AND NOVA SCOTA

Children across the Northeast and Canada reveled in "Rachel Carson's Sense of Wonder" The audience participation family musical drew enthusiastic responses from cast and audience alike. Creator Karen De Mauro was honored with an Artist-in-Residence Award at Acadia National Park. She joined park interpreters in a three week long exploration of how to use drama and performing arts to enhance nature education. As suspected, the joyful engagement that comes from live theatre generates a natural affection, one that encourages participants to preserve and care for the natural world. Singing, leaping children were last seen leaving Acadia on Sept 12th to Steven M. Alper's tunes.
